....Respondents

Present: - Mr. Bhupinder Singh, Advocate for the appellant.

This appeal is directed against the order dated 31.03.2021, passed by the Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Punjab.

The controversy is limited. A letter of intent was issued to the allottee (respondent) with the following Clause:-

"The physical possession of the said plot shall be handed over to the allottee within a period of one year from the date of issuance of this Letter of Intent"

The possession was not given within the stipulated period, which is the cause of grievance to the respondent, who preferred the complaint, resulting in the impugned order.

APPLICATION NO. 01 OF 2022
AND
APPEAL NO. 01 OF 2022

2

The argument of the appellant before the Authority as also before us is that allotment letter was issued to the respondent with the following stipulation Clause 9.

"The allottee shall be required to take physical possession of the site within 90 days of the issue of this allotment letter. In case the allottee fails to take the possession of the plot allotted within 90 days, the possession of the plot shall be deemed to have been delivered to the allottee. In case of non-feasibility of plot/site, the allottee shall inform the Estate Officer in writing before the lapse of 90 days. Within 60 days of taking over possession or deemed possession of plot, the allottee shall submit the building plan for approval by the Competent Authority."

In view of the above, it is contended that since the respondent has accepted this the earlier Clause in the letter of intent would fade into insignificance. Besides, it is argued that possession has already been taken, which should be construed as waiver of any lapse on the part of the appellant, even if established.

Having heard the learned counsel for the appellant at length in which, he most vehemently propounded the arguments as noticed above, we are of the opinion, that there is no merit in the appeal and deserves to be dismissed.

APPLICATION NO. 01 OF 2022
AND

3

The letter of intent clearly prescribed the period in which possession was to be given and having failed to abide by it, the appellant cannot seek any refuge in the subsequent letter of allotment, which materialized after years of the initial letter of intent.

Accepting the argument of the appellant would imply defeating the rights of the allottee.

The appeal is dismissed. However, the delay in filing the appeal stands condoned in view of the observation of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Suo Motu Writ Petition (Civil) No. 3 of 2020.
